

About Us

This in-home direct sales approach has been developed by home school educators and curriculum experts to capitalize on homeschooling's greatest resource . . . The Home Educator!

HomeWorks by Precept is designed to provide close, personal consultation to families all over the country with a trained curriculum consultant to help families with all their home school needs. HomeWorks by Precept Consultants will have an ever increasing array of products and services to share with their customers. HomeWorks by Precept will have year round special offers, promotions and exciting materials to make learning exciting and challenging for students. Teaching and Learning for Understanding is our pledge and coordinating all the materials to make this happen doesn't have to be a burden for the parent. HomeWorks by Precept will endeavor to make the home schooling experience more gratifying and beneficial to student and parent alike.